Thai Enquirer Summary

Political News

- Security agencies said they are keeping a close watch on a major student rally scheduled during October 4-6 organised by the United Front of Thammasat and Demonstration, led by pro-democracy student Panasaya “Rung” Sitthijirawattanakul.
  - ❖ A Thammasat University committee organising activities to mark 44 years of the October 6, 1976, massacre yesterday (October 1) held an exhibition to commemorate the October 6 massacre at Thammasat University’s Tha Phrachan Campus and Sanam Luang field from October 1 to 11.
  - ❖ The event will be highlighted with a seminar, a concert, the screening of important historical events during October 4-6. Panasaya, student activists Parit “Penguin” Chiwarak, human rights lawyer Anon Nampa, key leaders of the Free People Movement leader and the ‘Bad Student’ movement will be joining the event.
  - ❖ The United Front of Student Mahasarakham University for Democracy is set to hold a major rally at the university campus from October 4.

- Still with the protest news. As the “Bad Student” Movement is set to stage a rally in front of the Ministry of Education late today (October 2) to protest against Education Minister Nattapol Teepsuwan for failing to solve problems of alleged harassment of students at schools and beatings of kindergarten children. The rally is set to begin from 13.00 hrs at Samsenwittayalai School.
  - ❖ Nattapol has come out to say that the ministry is ready to listen to students and let them express their views. However, he has assigned Amporn Pinasa, acting Secretary-General of the Office of the Basic Education Commission to receive students.
- Additional charges have been filed against 7 leading anti-dictatorship protest figures for staging a protest against the arrest of Anon Nampa, a human rights lawyer and monarchy reform critic, in front of Bangkhen Police Station on 7 August without informing the police.
  - ❖ The 7 were charged with staging a public gathering without informing the police, unauthorized use of sound amplifiers and blocking traffic. All denied the charges and said they would testify later. Lawyers from Thai Lawyers for Human Rights (TLHR) were present to represent them.
  - ❖ Parit ‘Penguin’ Chiwarak, a student activist who was among those summoned, said the summonses were political prosecution to harass those that oppose the government.
  - ❖ Parit then burned his summons as an act of defiance toward the Thai judicial system. The other 6 followed suit.
- Deputy Interior Minister Niphon Boonyamanee has been found guilty of negligence of duty by the National Anti-Corruption Commission (NACC) in failing to pay a maintenance cost of 50,850,000 baht to Ponlavit Tech Plus Company Limited when he served as chief executive of Songkhla Provincial Administration Organization (PAO).

- ❖ The anti-graft agency found Niphon at fault after he broke a contract made between Songkhla PAO and Ponlavit Tech Plus on May 31, 2013. Niphon defended his action by saying that complaints were made against the company for price collusion.
  - ❖ However, the Administrative Court in Songkhla ruled on November 7, 2017 against the Songkhla PAO, ordering it to pay a fine of 52 million baht for breaching the contract with Ponlavit Tech Plus.
  - ❖ The NACC is set to hold a press briefing to elaborate on its guilty verdict against Niphon soon.
- Former finance minister Uttama Savanayana and spouse possessed 230.823 million baht in assets and no liabilities between them after Uttama left his post Minister of Finance earlier this year.
    - ❖ As per the rules each politician has to send in his/her asset declaration before and after taking the office to the National Anti-Corruption Commission (NACC).
      - Uttama reported assets worth 117.163 million baht while his spouse had assets worth 113.660 million baht, most of which were investments totalling 44 lists including Bualuang Long-Term Equity Fund; Bualuang Thossaphol open-ended fund; debentures of Siam Cement Group (SCG); debentures of True Move H Universal Communication and debentures of several listed firms like Berli Jucker Plc; Thai Beverage Plc and Sansiri Plc.
      - Their other assets include land plots in Lan Luang, Sukhumvit, Cha-am district worth a combined 44 million baht; 25 savings accounts worth 24.263 million baht; 6 vehicles worth 20.1 million baht. Interestingly, one of the vehicles obtained on July 25, 2014 is worth 10 million baht.

- As expected, Sompong Amornwiwat was re-elected as leader of the opposition Pheu Thai Party at the party's general assembly yesterday (October 2) which also sees 24 new executive members being elected.
  - ❖ The meeting elected 10 deputy leaders, a secretary-general, 5 deputies and 4 executive committee members. Khunying Sudarat Keyuraphan, former strategic chief of the party, and close aides were not elected to the party's new structure, except Anudit Nakornrab who was among 10 new deputy leaders.
  - ❖ Other deputy leaders are
    - Kittirat na Ranong
    - Chusak Sirinil
    - Kriang Kaltinant
    - Yutthapong Charassathien
    - Pichai Nariphapant
    - Suthin Klangsaeng
    - Chaiya Promma
    - Pol Gen Somsak Chathanping
    - Anusorn Iamsa-ard
  - ❖ The new secretary-general is Nakhon Ratchasima MP Prasert Jantararungtong who is recognised for coordinating factions of northeastern MPs.
  - ❖ Former Thai Raksa Chart candidates Arunee Kasayanon became party spokeswoman.
  - ❖ Sompong spelled out 4 priorities, with the restoration of true democracy in Thailand and to join with all political groups to amend the Constitution being his 1st priority.

- ❖ The 2nd priority is to alleviate the hardships of the people, especially those of low-income earners and the unemployed, affected by the deepening economic crisis, Sompong said.
  - ❖ The 3rd priority the Pheu Thai Party will do is to mobilize all the resources, both within and outside the party, to implement its policies.
  - ❖ The last on his list is to promote the use of technology as a tool to enhance communication between the party's MPs and their constituents and to support the learning process of the people so they can solve their own problems.
  - ❖ Sompong dismissed the speculation that Khunying Potjaman na Pombejra, ex-wife of fugitive former prime minister Thaksin Shinawatra will be controlling the party closely. He also said there is no indicator that her son-in-law Nuttaphong Kunakornwong would join the party.
  - ❖ However, several newly elected executives are close to Thaksin and his sisters Yingluck Shinawatra and Yaowapha Wongsawat.
- Graft buster Vicha Mahakun submitted his proposals for a revamp of the justice system after his review of the hit-and-run case involving the Red Bull scion.
    - ❖ Vicha made recommendations in a 4-page report containing observations that police probes lack independence and are prone to graft, while evidence can be tampered with and facts can be distorted.
    - ❖ On the charter amendment issue, Kao Klai (Move Forward) Party list MP Rangsiman Rome came out to turn down Deputy Prime Minister Gen Prawit Wongsuwan's invitation to the Opposition camp to join the House panel assigned to study 6 charter amendment drafts before the panel accept the charter amendment bills.

- ❖ Rangsiman perceived Gen Prawit's offer an attempt to buy time, saying that more talks are necessary.
  - ❖ A report said the panel resolved to appoint a sub-panel to consider legal issues regarding charter amendments. The panel has invited Pheu Thai key figures Chaikasem Nitisiri and Chusak Sirinil to join the sub-panel. However, both figures have reportedly turned down the invitation.
  - The government's royal gazette yesterday (October 1) announced the revocation of the police ranks and royal decorations of 10 police officers including Pol Lt Chaowarin Latthasaksiri.
    - ❖ Chaowarin was stripped of his police rank and royal decorations for embezzling.
    - ❖ Chawarin served as an advisor to former deputy prime minister Kowit Wattana. He is a former Pheu Thai MP and ex-deputy education minister. He also served as a senator in Ratchaburi.
  - Shopee, an online sales platform like Lazada or Amazon has come out to bank the sale of political party's goodies.
    - ❖ The ban was implemented against the brand 'DemocStore' an online sales platform of the 'Progressive Movement' of the now defunct Future Forward Party lead by Thanathorn Juangroongruangkit.
    - ❖ Pannika Wanich, the spokeswoman of the 'Progressive Movement' came out to say that this was not the 1st time that their online has been disrupted because the online platform 'Shopee' has been making up excuses to put out their planned sales of goodies.
      - Pannika said that there was a need for 'Progressive Movement' to raise funds and by selling goodies online is one of the fastest ways although she added that the group was looking to set up a new platform to sell its goods without having to rely on the likes of 'Shopee'.
