Thai Enquirer Summary

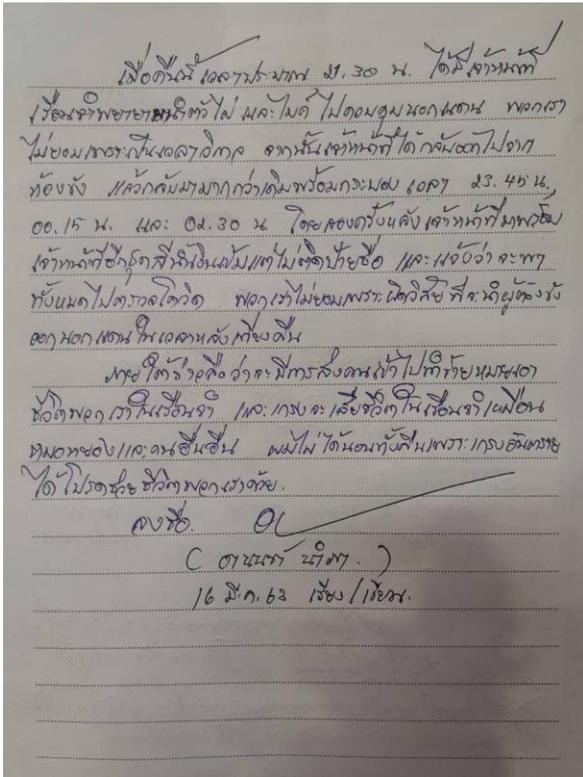

Political News

- All eyes are on how a vote for the 3rd reading of a charter amendment bill fairs in parliament today after a ruling by the Constitutional Court last week made clear that parliament's passage of the bill - which involves amending Section 256 of the constitution for a Charter Drafting Assembly (CDA) to be established - is against the ruling.
 - ❖ Prime Minister Gen Prayut Chan-o-cha already came out to distance himself from parliamentarians' plan to vote for the bill in the 3rd reading. Gen Prayut said the matter is the parliament's matter. He will let parliamentarians decide.
 - ❖ Deputy Prime Minister Wissanu Krea-ngan already came out to warn that the parliament's vote for the bill in the 3rd reading is problematic, citing page 10th, 11th and the last paragraph of the 2nd page of the written ruling released by the court.
 - ❖ Meanwhile, a report said the core coalition Phalang Pracharat Party (PPRP) sent signals to its lawmakers to vote down the bill today. Deputy Prime Minister Gen Prawit Wongsuwan, as PPRP leader, came out to deny any attempts to delay the charter amendment process. Gen Prawit said he supported parliament to go ahead with changes to the charter section by section and ruled out the passage for the formation of a CDA.

- The chief government whip and deputy leader of the ruling Palang Pracharath Party, Wirach Ratanasate, said lawmakers were still unsure what to do but chief opposition whip Sutin Klungsang insisted today's vote should proceed.
- In a sensational release of a letter, the Ratsadon group's key leader and human rights lawyer Arnon Nampa caused a stir after he wrote a petition to the Criminal Court demanding an investigation into the suspicious conduct of a group of prison officers.
 - ❖ Arnon - who appeared before the court yesterday morning for a hearing related to Ratsadon rally last year - told the court in writing about an unusual incident on Monday night in a cell at the Bangkok remand prison where he and 6 other core Ratsadon leaders are being detained.
 - ❖ Arnon said prison officers tried 4 times from late Monday night to the early hours of Tuesday to take Jatupat "Pai" Boontararaksa and Panupong "Mike" Jadnok, co-leaders of the Ratsadon group from their wing for 'medical test for Covid-19'.
 - Arnon said the number of officials arriving each time to take Jatupat and Panupong increased to up to 20 along with men in dark blue uniforms with no name tags accompanied them. They attempted to conduct the tests at various times from 21:30 hrs and 23:45 hrs on Monday and 00:15 hrs and 02:30 hrs on Tuesday, Arnon said in his letter.
 - Arnon said he did not sleep all night as he was fearful for his life.
 - ❖ In response to Arnon's claim, the Corrections Department issued a clarification that prison officers in question were trying to separate some of detained activists in the middle of the night.

- The department said that at around 23:00 hrs on Monday night Deputy director-general of the Corrections Department Veerakit Harnpripan who was accompanied by medics and nurses from the department's hospital visited the cell where the 7 Ratsadon leaders were detained with 9 other detainees in order to conduct COVID-19 tests.
- The department said that the Ratsadon group refused to undergo testing, making it necessary for prison officers to separate them from the rest of the detainees. It insisted that the prison officers were simply performing their duty and had not done anything to harm the detainees.
- ❖ The Criminal Court has scheduled an inquiry into Annon's claim over the incident at 09:00 hrs today. The court also summoned the Corrections Department's chief to testify before the court over the incident.

Last night around 2130 a group of prison officials came to my cell and tried to bring me, Pai and Mike out of our cell. We refused to go because it was late. After that the officials came back again with batons at around 2345, 0015 and 0230. The last two times, the officials came with more people dressed in blue uniforms without name tags to identify them. They told us that they wanted to take us for COVID tests but we refused to cooperate because it is unusual to take inmates out of their cell after midnight.

We have heard rumours a group of men will be sent to the prison in order to kill us. I am scared I will die like Mor Yong. I couldn't sleep the entire night because I was in fear for my life. Please help save our lives

Anon Nampha

A copy of the letter by Anon and the English translation.

- ❖ Krissadang Nutcharas, a lawyer at the Thai Lawyers for Human Rights (TLHR) said that Anon will write another petition to the court using the incident to back his demand for another bail request. He has a good reason to seek bail with the court because he is fearful for his life, the TLHR lawyer said, adding that Anon's parents will also petition the Justice Minister, the National Human Rights Commission and the Criminal Court's chief.
- Deputy Prime Minister Gen Prawit Wongsuwan, also leader of the Phalang Pracharat Party (PPRP) came under fire for his comment about Rajabhat university graduates.
 - ❖ The issue arose when journalists raised questions about qualifications of 2 candidates for cabinet posts handpicked by Gen Prawit, especially Trinuch Thienthong, a PPRP MP for Sa Kaeo, who is believed to be tipped for a cabinet post due to her family's close ties with the top generals.
 - ❖ When asked about the qualification of list MP Chaiwut Thanakhamanusorn who was touted to take over the DES Ministry, Gen Prawit said Chaiwut had a degree in engineering from Chulalongkorn University. Gen Prawit then hit a journalist with the same question of whether she earned a degree from a Rajabhat University. The same reporter said she earned a Master's Degree from Thammasat University. The answer prompted Gen Prawit to exclaim: "So what?" His comment since sparked a furore over his alleged discrimination against such graduates.
 - ❖ Gen Prawit afterwards came out to downplay his criticism about a degree from Rajabhat Universities by saying everyone has their own potentials regardless of where they earn their degrees and said he did not mean to bully anyone who graduates from Rajabhat Universities.
 - ❖ Prime Minister Prayut Chan-o-cha yesterday said he had received the candidate lists for ministerial posts nominated by government coalition parties, insisting he has the final say on a cabinet reshuffle.

- The Police Commission chaired by Prime Minister Gen Prayut Chan-o-cha will convene a meeting at the Royal Thai Police (RTP) headquarters at 14:00 hrs today to consider a proposed reshuffle of 60 senior police officers from the rank police major general.
 - ❖ The meeting is to consider higher positions and rewards for police generals who are set to retire this year. Speculation is rife that a new senior position has been created to accommodate the return of Surachate “Big Joke” Hakparn. It is said that he might be rewarded an assistant police chief post.

Economic News

- Charoen Pokphand (CP) Group is gearing up to increase business value by embracing hemp and cannabis into its products.
 - ❖ Dhanin Chearavanont, Senior Chairman of CP group, has recently signed an MOU with Maejo University to develop, research and produce hemp extracts that are beneficial for consumer’s health and as a quality food ingredient from a traceable supply chain. The 2 sides will work on making a systematic and standard guideline for managing the hemp value chain.
 - ❖ CP Foods’ CEO Prasit added that the company placed the utmost importance on health and safety of consumers. The CPF RD Center will create innovative hemp-based food products that can be traced back to species and cultivation sites in order to meet the highest level of food safety.
- SET-listed Gulf Energy Development, Thailand’s top power generation firm by capacity, plans to spend 100 billion baht over the next 10 years.

- ❖ This year, the company has earmarked a budget of 30-40 billion baht to invest in existing projects and expand its business through M&A deals with companies in renewable energy overseas, says Yupapin Wangviwat, Gulf's senior executive vice-president and chief financial officer.
- ❖ GULF also has plans to issue debentures worth 10-20 billion baht.
- ❖ The company aims for 50 per cent revenue growth from 35.833 billion baht in 2020, especially from a 1,494-megawatt gas-fired power plant and the 3rd phase development of Laem Chabang port in Chon Buri in which a contract-signing is expected at the end of this year.
- The Tourism Authority of Thailand (TAT) is ready to resubmit the extension of tourism stimulus “Rao Tiew Duay Kan” (We Travel Together) campaign to the cabinet for approval this week. The TAT plans to expand the rights to 2 million travellers to benefit from the scheme.
 - ❖ The TAT aims to extend the scheme scheduled to end on April 30 to June 30, 2021.
- Kalin Sarasin, chairman of the Thai Chamber of Commerce (TCC), came out to urge the government to come up with a clearer policy to reopen the country, pointing that 2 factors which are the key to the country's reopening are:
 - 1) Vaccine distribution which should be carried out as soon as possible so that companies can return to business as usual.
 - 2) Vaccine passports for foreign visitors.
- ❖ The TCC chairman is worried about the slow pace of the vaccination program, compared to neighbouring countries. He said vaccine distribution in Thailand is slower than in other countries. Only 40,000 doses of Covid-19 vaccine have been distributed in a month, a fraction of the government's goal of 10 million doses per month from June.

- ❖ Hard-hit sectors such as tourism and services must be the first priority to receive the vaccines, he added.
 - ❖ A recent survey found around 600 companies with 1 million workers want the vaccines, and many businesses can help with the distribution by paying for it.
 - ❖ He said the government should consider allowing private hospitals to buy Covid-19 vaccines from the Government Pharmaceutical Organization and proceed with their own distribution plan for people who can afford to pay for vaccination. This would speed up vaccine distribution in the country, Kalin pointed.
 - ❖ If the country can reopen to foreign tourists by the end of the 4th quarter, GDP in 2021 should expand by 3-4 per cent, Kalin said.
- The Federation of Thai Industries (FTI) has made some progress on the idea of having private companies to buy and distribute vaccines to their employees.
 - ❖ FTI chairman Supant Mongkolsuthree said he had met with Deputy Prime Minister and Public Health Minister Anutin Charnvirakul about the idea. Anutin told the FTI to compile its request from FTI members so that it can forward the request to the ministry for vaccines at a cost of 1,000 baht per dose or 2,000 baht in total for 2 doses of vaccines produced by Sinovac and AstraZeneca approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).
- The cabinet yesterday approved a fiscal 2022 budget of 3.10 trillion baht, with a deficit of 700 billion baht, which is 91 billion or 15 per cent higher than fiscal 2021.

- ❖ The fiscal 2022 budget, starting from October 1 this year, would be 186 billion baht or 5.66 per cent lower than the 3.28 trillion baht approved in the fiscal 2021 blueprint, says Sommai Lakananuruk, deputy secretary-general of the Budget Bureau.
 - ❖ The fiscal 2022 budget is based on an economic growth forecast of 3.5 per cent and an inflation rate of 0.7-1.7 per cent.
 - ❖ Revenue collection is estimated at 2.4 trillion baht, down by 10.4 per cent from the current fiscal year, which is 2.77 trillion.

General News

- The head office of the Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand (EGAT) in Nonthaburi province has been ordered closed for 3 days for disinfection following reports that an outsource employee was found to be infected with Covid-19.
 - ❖ Staff who are not at risk of being infected and working in the same or other buildings have been advised to work from home until further notice, said Suttichai Juprasertporn, EGAT Assistant Governor.
- Amid a spike of new infections, the Centre for Covid-19 Situation Administration (CCSA) will meet this Friday to consider the easing of some restrictions during Songkran.
 - ❖ The CCSA's sub-panel will likely propose a ban on all forms of water splashing, use of powder paste and foam parties during the Songkran festival in April. This is in line with the Culture Ministry's conclusion that only traditional activities will be allowed during the upcoming Songkran.
 - ❖ The 6-day Songkran holiday this year is from April 10-15.

- Thailand recorded 149 new COVID-19 cases today, including 90 found during proactive screening of people related to the Bang Khae market cluster.
 - ❖ The CCSA reported that there are 144 new locally-acquired infections yesterday. These include 90 cases in Bangkok, 31 cases in Samut Sakhon and 2 cases in Pathum Thani, all found during proactive screening in communities. Meanwhile, 21 other cases are among those under observation and treatment. These include 10 cases in Bangkok, 3 each in Samut Sakhon and Nakhon Pathom, 2 each in Ratchaburi and Pathum Thani and 1 in Phetchaburi.
 - ❖ There are also 3 cases among arrivals from the United Arab Emirates and 1 each among arrivals from Switzerland and Germany.
 - ❖ Cumulative infections in Thailand, since early last year, are 27,154, and deaths remain at 87.
- The Bangkok Metropolitan Administration (BMA) plans to start its Covid-19 vaccine rollout in Bang Khae today to prevent the disease spreading further in the district.
 - ❖ BMA governor Aswin Kwanmuang said that the vaccinations would be administered at local hospitals and at Bang Khae market. The BMA planned to inoculate about 6,000 people in the district, at the rate of 500-600 a day, starting with market vendors and people close to them, he said.
 - ❖ Anyone considering themselves at risk because they had come into contact with infected people at the Bang Khae markets can request vaccination at local hospitals.

- The leaders of the Thai Pro-Democracy movement told Thai Enquirer that they will see how the charter amendment bill fairs in parliament before they decide on their next move and whether or not to escalate protests.
