Thai Enquirer Summary

Political News

- After the debacle in the parliament during the 3rd reading of the charter amendment bill, rumours are floating around that some members of the incumbent coalition are looking to exit the coalition.
 - ❖ Coalition partners - Democrats and Bhumjai Thai Party, have ruled out speculation that they may withdraw from the coalition government following some incidents in the parliament during the parliament's vote to shoot down the charter amendment draft in the 3 reading.
 - ❖ Deputy Prime Minister and Public Health Minister Anutin Charnvirakul, speaking as the Bhumjai Thai Party leader, apologised on behalf of his party that the party could not push an amendment bill to pave the way for a charter drafting assembly (CDA) but vowed to continue a push for a new charter amendment draft to parliament.
 - Despite such repentance, Anutin said the charter amendment issue has no impact on its ties with the coalition parties and the party's existence in the coalition.

- ❖ Meanwhile, Deputy Prime Minister Jurin Laksanawisit, as the Democrat Party leader, said the Democrats will continue to collaborate with the coalition government to push for charter amendment bids as long as the government's policies declared to parliament remains unchanged.
- Progressive Movement leader Thanathorn Juangroongruangkit vowed to drum up public support for charter changes after the parliament voted down a charter amendment bill seeking to set up a new charter drafting assembly (CDA) to rewrite a new charter.
 - ❖ In his latest Facebook post, Thanathorn vowed to push for amendments section by section if an attempt to write a new charter is not possible.
 - ❖ The Progressive Movement leader has a few agendas in his mind including abolishing the Senate and the National Strategy Committee, reform the Constitutional Court, make changes to the making up of independent bodies. Thanathorn plans to launch a signature collection campaign soon to get the support from the public for his move.
 - ❖ Piyabutr Saengkanokkul, co-founder of the Progressive Movement, tweeted the need to
 - Abolish the Senate, leaving the country to have a single chamber, the House of Representatives (the Lower House).
 - Reform the Constitutional Court and independent bodies.
 - Abolish the national strategic plan.
 - ❖ On the same day, a group formed under the name "Resolution" comprising Piyabutr, former Democrat Party politician Parit "Itim" Wacharasindhu, who formed the Progressive Constitution group, and Yingcheep Atchanont, manager of the Internet Law Reform Dialogue (iLaw) group, went on a Clubhouse chatroom to campaign for charter amendments section by section expected to be kicked off in April. The group announced the goal of drumming support of million signatures from the public.

- Parliament speaker Chuan Leekpai came out to say that amendments to the charter section by section will have to wait until the next parliamentary session.
 - ❖ Following a joint sitting of MPs and senators' vote to reject a charter amendment bill in the 3rd reading on March 17, Chuan said he will instruct parliament officials to study the details of the Constitutional Court's ruling on the legality of charter amendment drafts, especially the process of public referendums.
 - ❖ The parliament speaker admitted that the charter was drafted to prevent possible changes but did not rule out that amendments are impossible. He said amendments to the charter section by section are easier to do.
- A rally by the pro-democracy group is expected to escalate this weekend after the REDEM group threatened to escalate its activities from tomorrow after the parliament rejected a charter amendment bill in its 3rd and final reading late on March 17.
 - ❖ The REDEM Group tried to mobilise the masses via the messaging app Telegram to join its rally scheduled to start this weekend from tomorrow. The group now targeted senators appointed by the coup makers. It said “senators are our rivals”. The group called for the public to join its rally tomorrow to send letters to those who ordered the vote on efforts by lawmakers to amend the charter to be nullified.

- To add fuel to possible bigger gathering of protestors was a message posted on social media by one of the 11 leaders of the protest movement who has been detained in jail, while awaiting trial.

❖ On his Facebook page of detained pro-democracy protest co-leader and human rights lawyer Anon Nampa put up a message giving instructions to his supporters how to deal with his body in case he died of a sudden death.

- In his post, Anon said: “This is a message from the cell written on March 18, 2021. Today I am still alive but being alive or death is not important as long as I can be useful. Being detained in a prison showed me the ugliness of the Thai justice system. I will die happily. If I die, don’t place my body in any plastic wrap but just place it in a coffin and put it right in front of the Criminal Court on Ratchadaphisek Rd. Wait until a vehicle of the person who caused my death to run over my body and drag it back to his residence. My ghost will stay with them on his desk”.

วันนี้ผมยังไม่ตาย แต่การอยู่หรือตายก็ไม่สำคัญเท่ากับการอยู่อย่างมีประโยชน์หรือตายอย่างมีคุณค่า ถ้าการอยู่ในเรือนจำแล้วทำให้เห็นถึงความอัปสักษณ์ของกระบวนการยุติธรรมไทย ผมก็ยินดี หรือถ้าต้องตายภายในเรือนจำ แล้วเกิดการเปลี่ยนแปลงก็ถือว่าคุ้มค่า

ถ้าผมตายไป ศพของผมให้นำใส่โลงศพไม่ต้องห่อด้วยถุงพลาสติกส์ ไปวางไว้หน้าศาลอาญาบนถนนรัชดาภิเษก เมื่อเลือดและน้ำหนองของผมไหลออกมาก็ปล่อยให้มันแข็งบนถนนรัชดา รอให้รถของคนที่มีส่วนทำให้ผมตายวิ่งมาเหยียบมันและกลับไปบ้าน เมื่อนั้นเลือดและน้ำหนองของผมจะไหลปนออกมากับน้ำที่เขาอาบและเมื่อเขากินข้าวหรือกาแฟ เลือดและน้ำหนองของผมก็จะอยู่ในนั้น

วิญญาณของผมจะติดตามเขาไปทุกที่ กลิ่นสาบของผมจะติดตามชุดเครื่องแบบของพวกเขา และวิญญาณของผมจะทอดร่างอยู่ใต้โต๊ะทำงานของพวกเขาเหล่านั้นไปจนกว่าจะถึงเวลาที่ผมจะได้เกิดใหม่และถ้าผมเกิดใหม่แล้วเมืองไทยยังไม่เป็นประชาธิปไตยอย่างสมบูรณ์ ผมขอเกิดมาบนแผ่นดินไทยและขอเกิดเป็นลูกชานานาอีกครั้ง เรียนกฎหมาย และกลับมาต่อสู้ร่วมกับพี่น้องจนกว่าจะได้ประชาธิปไตยที่สมบูรณ์ "ขอให้เจอมิตรสหายที่ดีอย่างเช่นทุกวันนี้"

จนกว่าเราจะพบกันอีก

- The Supreme Court has ordered the Appeal Court to retry Tan Thaugsuban, son of former protest leader Suthep Thaugsuban, and three others in connection with a 2013 forest encroachment case. The order came after the court disagreed with the Appeal Court's ruling which found the prosecutors' evidence and witness testimony in the case dubious.
 - ❖ The Supreme Court disagreed the evidence and testimony were dubious. However, the case will now go back to the Appeal Court which will need to re-examine the case in greater detail and hand down a new ruling. The Supreme Court said there was no telling how long the retrial will take, given the volume of detail that must be vetted. Although the re-trial may largely be based on what has been presented to the Appeal Court, new evidence and testimony may be called.

Economic News

- Inter-provincial travel is expected to be allowed during next month's Songkran festival as the Centre for Covid-19 Situation Administration (CCSA) meets today to discuss the easing of Covid-19 curbs.
 - ❖ Speaking after a meeting of the CCSA's subcommittee on Thursday, Deputy Prime Minister and Public Health Minister Anutin Charnvirakul said moves to ease various measures would be based on zoning under a colour-coded system used to identify which areas were most vulnerable to Covid-19 outbreaks.
 - ❖ Red, orange, yellow and green are used to illustrate the degree of Covid-19 infections in provinces affected by the disease. Currently, there were no longer red zones which required maximum control, and Bangkok and Samut Sakhon have now been declared as orange zones, Mr Anutin said, adding that public health safety would be prioritised in each zone

- The Federation of Thai Industries (FTI) said it is ready to import Covid-19 vaccines to distribute them to 51,000 employees of 109 companies in 22 provinces across the country. The FTI's rollout plan to be administered at state facilities will likely be kicked off in June, FTI chairman Supant Mongkolsuthree announced.
 - ❖ Supant said an additional 100,000 China's Sinovac shots has been ordered to be used and paid for by businesses in the 1st phase of a private sector vaccination scheme.
 - ❖ He said the Government Pharmaceutical Organization has confirmed the FTI's order, adding that the vaccine costing 1,000 baht per dose should be administered in June. About 50,000 individuals in 109 companies, mostly in the food and drug sectors, are joining the scheme after an initial survey, FTI's deputy secretary-general, Panitarn Pavarolavidya, said.
 - "This batch is not related to the government's batch for the public. We're in line for the next lot for vaccinations," Panitarn said.
- The Federation of Thai Industries (FTI) said Thailand's industrial sentiment index rose to 85.1 points in February, up from 83.5 points in January, ending falling to a 6-month low.
 - ❖ The increase was driven by the manufacturing sector after resuming its production with higher demand both domestically and overseas, says FTI chairman Supant Mongkolsuthree.
 - ❖ Other contributing factors were the government's relaxation of Covid-19 control measures and its relief schemes, namely the co-payment and Rao Chana programme, as well as the recovery of the global economy following vaccine distribution.

- ❖ The 3-month sentiment index in February, looking ahead to the likely situation up to May, also rose, to 92 points from 91.1 in January, as a result of the stimulus measures coupled with the rollout of vaccination in the country.
- ❖ Supant urged the government to accelerate the vaccine distribution as planned especially to the high-risk groups, allow the private sector to import vaccines, continue to roll out relief schemes, speed up soft-loan programmes for SMEs, and ensure the supply of shipping containers for exporters.
- Meanwhile, business sentiment plunged to the lowest in 26 months, according to a survey on business confidence index by the University of Thai Chamber of Commerce (UTCC).
 - ❖ A survey of business sectors during 22-26 February 2021 found that the confidence index of the Thai Chamber of Commerce stood at 29.6, declining for the third consecutive month and the lowest index value in 26 months since the beginning of the survey in 2019.
 - ❖ The current confidence in entrepreneurs declined for the 3rd month at 20.1, but entrepreneurs had better confidence in the future again in 2 months to 39.1, with operators still worried about consumption. Tourism investment Trade, service, border trade, and agriculture and production more than 90 per cent of operators surveyed in all sectors still view that it is worsening, according to Thanavath Phonvichai, President of the UTCC and Chairman of the Center for Economic and Business Forecasting Unit.
 - ❖ The biggest concern is that it is still unable to carry out regular festival activities such as Songkran, a revenue-generating period, and growing concern about the third round of the COVID epidemic, thus reducing confidence in the private sector.
 - ❖ The survey also found that entrepreneurs called for the government to:

- ✓ 1) Accelerate the vaccination program among the public to bring the situation of economic activities back to normal in both trade, export and tourism sectors.
 - ✓ 2) Promote and drive the domestic economy to be stable and sustainable. By increasing the competitiveness of international trade and investment
 - ✓ 3) Create a favourable environment for investment and confidence for investors to support the expansion of private investments.
 - ✓ 4) Accelerate the recovery of the national economy to reduce the problem of unemployment and lay-offs.
- Domestic car sales in Thailand declined to 58,960 units in February, down 10.9 per cent from last year, according to Surapong Paisitpattanapong, spokesman of the Federation of Thai Industries (FTI)'s automotive industry division, saying that the new wave of the outbreak continues to drag down local consumer confidence and purchasing power while tightening stricter auto loan rules by financial institutions also played the role.
 - ❖ The Bangkok International Motor Show scheduled during March 24-April 4, 2021 raised hopes for domestic auto sales, Surapong said.
 - ❖ Auto sales in the domestic market during January-February this year totalled 114,242 units, down 16.2 per cent from the same period of last year.
 - ❖ Domestic motorcycle sales totalled 265,771 units in the same period, down 46.33 per cent from the same period last year.
 - The State Railway of Thailand (SRT) has been ordered to reduce fares on the Red Line's Bang Sue-Rangsit and Bang Sue-Taling Chan extensions due to their high price compared to those charged by the Blue Line operator.

- ❖ Transport Minister Saksayam Chidchob asked the SRT to provide a good explanation on why the fares are different and why the charges on the 2 routes are higher than the .88 baht/km fare charged by the Blue Line.
- ❖ The SRT has set the fares for the 15km Bang Sue to Taling Chan extension at 1.5 baht/km, while the 26km extension, from Bang Sue to Rangsit, is set at 2 baht/km.
- ❖ The SRT has been given a month to introduce revised fares, the Transport Ministry said.
- ❖ The SRT are to start trial runs on the 2 extension routes, on March 26 until July 28, during which members of the public ride free of charge.
- Minor International Plc (MINT) confirmed that it has a strong financial position to facilitate business operations for another 2 years or until the outbreak ends.
 - ❖ The company still has cash flow of more than 25 billion baht and holds a loan of 28 billion baht from financial institutions, says MINT's vice-president for strategic planning Chaiyapat Paitoon, adding that the company also enjoys an increase of cash flow from a recovery of its business operations.
 - ❖ The company plans to adjust Minor Hotels' European portfolio with a plan to sell 4-5 hotels in Europe, with a combined value of 10-15 billion baht. The plan is expected to become clearer in the 2nd quarter.
- The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET) Index closed at 1,568.82 points, increased 2.06 points or 0.13 per cent with a trading value of 81 billion baht.
 - ❖ The SET's gain is buoyed by news that the US Federal Reserve signalled it would maintain a low interest rate of 0.25 per cent and retain quantitative easing (bond-buying stimulus) to maximise employment.

- ❖ A stock analyst though warned of domestic political uncertainty as a consequence of parliament's vote to reject a charter amendment bill in the 3rd reading which may cause a delay in the charter amendment process. This could have some impact on the Thai bourse in the near term.

General News

- A report said Samut Sakhon Governor Weerasak Wijitsaengsri is expected to be released from Siriraj Hospital and return to his province after receiving treatment for Covid-19 infection since December 28 last year.
 - ❖ Siriraj Hospital will hold a press conference to update his latest condition at 10.00 hrs today.
- The Centre for Covid-19 Situation Administration (CCSA) reported 92 new Covid-19 cases and 1 new death over the last 24 hours, bringing the case figures in the country to 27,494 infections and 89 deaths.
 - ❖ Of the 92 new cases, 78 were local transmissions and 14 imported cases.
 - ❖ The only fatality is a 65-year-old Thai man from Samut Prakhon. He is a cancer patient who sought treatment at a hospital after developing high fever and fatigue on March 15. He died at the hospital on the same day. A test showed that he had contracted Covid-19.
- The Criminal Court sentenced 15 people, including eight former Thai Premier League footballers, to between one and five years in prison, in a major match-fixing case that started in 2017.
 - ❖ The crime involved the paying of bribes on several occasions by five people betting on Thai Premier League football matches. Bribes were paid to the players, a referee and an assistant referee. The defendants were committed to face trial in July and September in 2017 in Ubon Ratchathani, Nakhon Ratchasima and Chon Buri.
