Thai Enquirer Summary

Economic News

- Thailand is set to open its door to fully vaccinated tourists from 10 low risk countries effective November 1st without any quarantine and open its restaurants and bars effective December 1st.
 - ❖ This will be followed by ‘an extensive’ list from December 1st and again more countries on the list by January 1st, 2022.
 - ❖ The initial list would include the likes of United States, United Kingdom, Germany, China, and Singapore. Those arriving have to only ‘fly’ into Thailand.
 - The passenger would need to have a negative RT-PCR test from their origin and then would be tested with RT-PCR in Thailand as well.
 - The details are likely to be asked by the Centre for Covid-19 situation administration (CCSA) today on key issues such as
 - ✓ Is it national of these countries or people who are coming from those countries?
 - ✓ Whether anybody who has passed those countries could come into Thailand or do they have to spend 14 or 21 days in that country.
 - ❖ Thailand is also set to open its bars/restaurants and entertainment venues from December 1st.

❖ The bigger question remains which of the countries are in these 10 countries that have been announced.

➤ The list of ‘low risk’ countries as of August 1st, 2021, on official website are as follows.

✓ There are 31 countries on the Low-Risk country list below

• The announcement was made by 2014 coup leader and incumbent Prime Minister Prayut Chan-o-cha in a nationalized televised address to the country.

❖ During the address he said that the plan ‘may’ see a spike in the number of infection but the high level of inoculation by the time Thailand opens coupled with ability of hospitals to handle the rising infection would allow the country to take the risk.

❖ He said that the threat of life-threatening infection is starting to decline.

❖ This he said was needed as Thailand cannot afford to lose the ‘golden period’

❖ Warned that if things deteriorate then this move to open out would have to be looked into once again.

- The key question that everyone has been asking is how much truth is there to this plan and whether the Prayut administration would ‘change’ their mind again like they have done with every plan announced in the past 18-months.
- Critics have come out to say that General Prayut has not announced the date for the opening of the educational institutions but has announced the opening of bars and restaurants.
- There are reports from the Government House that today (Oct. 12) General Prayut, will explain the details of the guidelines, and the order relating to the opening of the country on November 1, 2021, according to a statement to the public to hear opinions from the Cabinet.
- This news is likely to benefit some travel related stocks that could possibly see buying during the opening of the Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET).
 - ❖ Stocks in the Airlines / Hotel / Restaurant / Retail / Industrial Estate and Medical Care are all likely to benefit from such a move.
