Thai Enquirer Summary

Political News

- Thailand slipped 6 places on the global Corruption Perceptions Index (CPI).
- ❖ In the 2021 survey, Thailand was ranked 110th with 35 out of 100 points, down 6 ranks from 104th a year ago, and got another 1 point.
- ❖ Singapore is the top performer in Southeast Asia, the 4th least corrupt in the world and scored 85 points. Malaysia also surpassed Thailand, scoring 48 points in 62nd place.
- ❖ Some high-scoring countries are experiencing decline as governments fail to deal with massive corruption, defend their rights and consult their citizens.
- ❖ The top performers in the Asia Pacific region New Zealand (CPI score: 88), Singapore (85) and Hong Kong (76). However, most countries are definitely below the world average of 43.

- The main opposition Pheu Thai Party is gearing up for a general debate without a vote under Section 152 of the charter, with key focus on the issue of rising living costs as the key issue. The opposition plans to seek at least 36 hours for the debate.
  - ❖ Pheu Thai Party leader Chonlanan Srikaew has criticised the government for poor scores in the latest CPI, clearly because of corruption in its political system. He said Thailand's ranking on the CPI reflects the government's failure to solve and suppress graft that hidden under its administration, with manifold vested interests among state officials and cronies of government politicians.
  - ❖ Initially, the opposition parties divided the issues to grill the Prayut Chan-o-cha government into 2 main groups. One is the issue of rising living costs and smaller issues like the issue of Akara's Chatree gold mine.
  - ❖ Kao Klai (Move Forward) Party proposed to grill the government over the issue of the PM2.5 dust that caused harmful air pollution in Bangkok and nearby areas.
- Deputy Prime Minister General Prawit Wongsuwan, as the Palang Pracharat Party (PPRP) leader, has come out to say that the former drug dealing convict Captain Thammanat Prompao saga is over and done and that they will support the government coalition.
  - ❖ He will not order the PPRP executive board to review the expulsion of Thammanat as the party's secretary-general and 21 other MPs, as this issue is all over.
  - ❖ During his trip to Chainat province to inspect a development project for Chainat tourist attractions, Gen Prawit told the media that the issue about the ousting of Thammanat and other 21 MPs is all over, debunking calls for the executive board to review its decision.
  - ❖ Gen Prawit also said they will go to a new party. When asked if the switching to a new party will affect the government's House majority and a quorum at parliamentary meetings, Gen Prawit said, "The new party will be part of the coalition government and vouch support for the government in parliament. No need to worry about that".
  - ❖ So far, the 21 MPs have not announced which side they will take.
  - ❖ Reports have come out that Deputy Finance Minister Santi Promphat, as the PPRP deputy leader, will be appointed as acting PPRP secretary-general. There is a high tendency that Santi will be tipped as new PPRP secretary-general.

- ❖ Paiboon Nititawan, PPRP deputy leader, said the party plans to select new secretary-general at the annual general assembly in April.
- In a separate development, Deputy Prime Minister Gen Prawit Wongsuwan told the media that he is not at odds with Prime Minister Gen Prayut Chan-o-cha. Gen Prawit said he never initiated a fight with anyone.
  - ❖ He wants everyone to live together in peace regardless of what political parties they belong to because we are all Thais who work for the general public.
  - ❖ During his trip to Chainat and Singburi yesterday, Gen Prawit was accompanied by spokesperson Patcharin Samsiripong, PPRP for Bangkok Kankanit Haewsanti, list MP Pitcharat Laohapongchana and Prachapiwat list MP Nantana Songpracha.
  - ❖ One could not help but notice that Narumon Pinyosinwat, the party treasurer and Gen Wit Thephasadin Na Ayudhya, the chairman of the party's strategic committee, did not join this trip like in the past. This follows the reports that the 2 would be joining the new party with Thammanat.
- The Palang Pracharat Party (PPRP)'s decision to expel Captain Thammanat Prompao and 21 MPs has reached the poll agency.
  - ❖ The Election Commission (EC) is set to look into the PPRP's executive board meetings that saw Thammanat and 21 MPs being booted out.
  - ❖ The EC will examine the Sawaeng Boonmee, acting EC secretary-general in his capacity as the registrar of political parties, will investigate the PPRP's board meetings held on January 19 prior to the party's move to expel Thammanat and 21 fellow MPs. It will look into whether the board's meeting follows the party's meeting regulations and the political parties' law.
  - ❖ The EC has acknowledged changes to the Palang Pracharat Party (PPRP)'s executive board which now saw 17 members following the removal of Thammanat and Pai Likh.
  - ❖ The EC's meeting also acknowledged the PPRP's letter to notify that 21 members have been removed from the party's membership as required by Section 38 (3) of the political parties' law.
- Palang Pracharat Party (PPRP) deputy leader Paiboon Nititawan came out to confirm that Somsak Pankasem, Palang Pracharat Party (PPRP) MP for Nakhon Ratchasima, was present at the party's meeting despite his claim that he had no knowledge about the faction turning against the party which led to the MPs being removed from the PPRP.

- ❖ Somsak is the one who petitioned the PPRP leader to review the expulsion of Captain Thammanat Prompao and 21 other MPs by the executive board, effective from January 19.
- Mongkolkit Suksintharanon, leader of the Thai Civilised Party, has threatened to file a complaint with the Election Commission (EC) against Deputy Prime Minister Gen Prawit Wongsuwan, as the Palang Pracharat Party (PPRP), and head of the Bang Bua Ruamjai Pattana Community for blocking his party's campaign for Thai Civilised candidate in the by-election in Constituency 9 of Bangkok.
  - ❖ Mongkolkit said he could not lead his candidate to campaign in the Bang Bua Ruamjai Pattana Community on January 26 as the head of the community did not give a permission for him and his party to visit the community, claiming that the PPRP was campaigning for votes at the time.
  - ❖ Mongkolkit said the Bang Bua Ruamjai Pattana Community head and the PPRP violated the election law for blocking others from running election campaign. The Thai Civilised Party leader said he is consulting with his party's legal team to take legal action against them.
- Kao Klai (Move Forward) Party candidate for the upcoming by-election in Constituency 9 of Bangkok announced plans to run campaign rallies in military bases.
  - ❖ Move Forward Party leader Pita Limjaroenrat and executive members will lead Karunpol Thiansuwan, Move Forward candidate contesting the by-election in Constituency 9 of Bangkok, to carry out campaign rallies at the 11th Infantry Regiment headquarters at 17.30 hrs tomorrow.
  - ❖ Following the army's permission for election candidates to campaign in army bases, Karunpol said Move Forward intends to raise the issue about the party's push to reform the Thai armed forces.
  - ❖ He stressed that Move Forward disagreed with defence budget spending on unnecessary issues but supports the idea of budget spending for welfare of citizens and low-ranking soldiers.
- The EC endorsed Democrat Party candidate Suphaporn Kamnerdphol, the winner of the by-election in Songkhla's Constituency 6, as a new MP.

- Prime Minister Gen Prayut Chan-o-cha and his delegate yesterday embarked on an official visit of Thai officials to Saudi Arabia in 30 years. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs said this trip is a result of 6 years of efforts to mend the relationship between both kingdoms

Economic News

- The Bank of Thailand (BoT), Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Ministry of Finance (MoF) yesterday said in a joint statement that they have reviewed the benefits and risks of digital assets and deem it necessary to regulate their usage as a means of payment for goods and services to avert potential impacts on the country's financial stability and economic system.

The joint statement said that

- 1) People cannot use digital assets to pay for goods and services
- 2) This is being done to avert potential impacts on the country's financial stability and economic system
- 3) The use of digital assets in this manner could also pose further risks to consumers and businesses through price volatility, cybertheft, personal data leakage, or money laundering, etc
- 4) Further regulatory guidelines will be issued for certain digital assets that are supportive of the financial system and financial innovation while not posing systemic risks
- 5) Technologies and digital assets that do not pose such risks should be supported with appropriate regulatory frameworks to drive innovation and further benefit for the public

https://www.bot.or.th/English/AboutBOT/Activities/Pages/JointPress\_25012022.aspx

- The authorities are now undertaking public hearing on digital assets and it would be something that would be the way to look at what is best way forward for these assets.
  - ❖ The regulatory bodies have started conducting a public hearing on the guidelines for using digital assets as a means of payment for goods and services to determine an appropriate framework. The hearing runs from January 25 February 8, 2022.
  - ❖ After that, the regulatory bodies are expected to jointly finalise and announce the regulations within 15 days. Digital asset operators will be subject to a daily fine of 10,000 baht or 100,000 baht each time if they failed to comply with the updated regulations.

- Meanwhile Prinn Panitchpakdi, adviser to the Thai Digital Asset Association, yesterday led representatives of the digital asset and Fintech businesses to meet with Finance Minister Arkhom Termpittayapaisith. Prinn said the sector discussed their request for a tax exemption on digital asset trading for 3-5 years.
  - ❖ The group also informed the government of the sector’s views regarding the obstacles and opportunities in the digital financial era. Digital asset businesses could add great value to the Thai economy if they receive state support.
    - “Collecting the tax now will not provide that much money but if you exempted the tax for at least 5 years, that will provide the opportunity for the industry to grow,” Prinn said.
  - ❖ Arkhom said the ministry has not finalised the call. The ministry still has to seek further discussion with the private sector. He said the Revenue Department is compiling information on the tax push expected to be completed in March before the deadline for the filing of personal tax income on March 30, 2022.
- There is some good news for Thailand as far as repatriation funds go, after relations between Thailand and Saudi Arabia are set to normalize.
  - ❖ The 2 countries which saw the relations deteriorate more than 32-years ago are set to normalize after the leaders of the 2 countries met in Riyadh.

- ❖ During the peak (some 32-years ago) Thailand had more than 300,000 workers working in the country and annual remittance of their earnings back to Thailand reached more than 9 billion baht.
- ❖ All that turned sour after Kriangkrai Techamong stole more than $20 million worth of jewellery from the palace of the Saudi royal in 1989.
- The Employers' Confederation of Thai Trade and Industry (EconThai) sees a slim chance of an economic recovery in the 1st half of this year as the spread of the COVID-19 outbreak continues to take a toll on travel confidence among foreign visitors.
  - ❖ EconThai vice-chairman Tanit Sorat predicted that even with the resumption of the Test & Go scheme in place, the country will likely see around 200,000-300,000 foreign visitors. The outlook regarding low numbers of international tourist arrivals dampens Thailand's economic recovery pace and the rebound of the tourism and services sectors.
  - ❖ Rising inflation rate forecast to stand at 3% in 2022 is a key factor to drag down economic recovery pace while rising household debt is another factor.
  - ❖ EconThai chief urged the government to take quick action to solve the problem of rising inflation as a result of surging global oil prices that play a key role in rising prices of commodity products.
  - ❖ Meanwhile The Labour Ministry will conduct a feasibility study on the impact of increasing the minimum daily wage while the Thai Labour Solidarity Committee (TLSC) suggests the rate should be set at 492 baht. A study will be carried out by the Office of the Permanent Secretary for the Labour Ministry to determine the suitability of the minimum wage.
- The Federation of Thai Industries (FTI) still forecasts car sales at 800,000 to 850,000 vehicles, or a rise of 5.4% to 12%.
  - ❖ According to Surapong Paisitpattanapong, a spokesperson for the FTI's automotive industry division, the forecast is supported by easing of travel curbs and economic recovery.
  - ❖ Domestic car sales in Thailand fell 17.2% in December 2021 from a year earlier and dropped 4.2% in the whole of last year, due to coronavirus outbreaks and a shortage of microchips. The FTI said car sales totalled 86,145 units in December and 759,119 vehicles in all 2021, slightly above target.

- ❖ Car exports, however, jumped about 48% in December from a year earlier and rose 30.4% in the whole of 2021, the FTI said. It predicts car exports to rise by 4.3% to 1 million vehicles in 2022.
- ❖ The auto industry accounts for about 10% of Thailand's gross domestic product and its manufacturing jobs.
- VGI Plc, the country's leading advertising media and one of the largest shareholders of Kerry Express (Thailand) Plc, has announced that it was undertaking rights offering of 10:3 (existing shares to new shares) at 5 baht a piece.
  - ❖ VGI said that those exercising the rights to subscribe to the new shares would get 1 new warrant (VGI W3) exercisable at 11.90 baht
  - ❖ Those eligible for the rights offering and warrant are those people whose names would be on the registrar on February 9, 2022.
  - ❖ VGI said that it would hold a Extraordinary Shareholders Meeting (EGM) on March 4, 2022 to approve the capital increase.

- SCG Packaging Plc (SCGP) expects its total revenue to grow to 180 billion baht within 2027, thanks to merger and partnership (M&P) deals as well as business expansion projects.
  - ❖ This year, the company is confident its revenue will increase to 140 billion baht, said Wichan Jitpukdee, chief executive of SCGP, expecting a 10% growth in revenue per year.
  - ❖ In 2021, SCGP generated 124.2 billion baht in revenue, an increase of 34% from 2020. The net profit was recorded at 8.29 billion baht, an increase of 28% from 2020. SCGP has allocated 100 billion baht as investment budget, with around 20 billion baht to be spent per year.
  - ❖ The company will focus on businesses with innovations in foreign countries for its M&P plan. He said M&P will be a key factor to drive revenue toward the target. Growing demand for packaging products in Thai and overseas markets will also contribute to the increase despite the ongoing Covid-19 outbreak.
- Tomorrow is the 1st day trade of Civil Engineering Plc (CIVIL) that sold 200 million shares to the public of 28.57% of the paid-up capital base of the company.

- The shares which were sold from January 17-21 at 4.60 baht a share based on Price-to-earnings ratio of 16.8x.
