Thai Enquirer News Summary

Economic News

- The Pheu Thai Party is under scrutiny after they've been actively touting their accomplishments through frequent announcements. This comes after opinion polls revealed that the party's popularity has been declining, with former Move Forward Party leader, Pita Limjaroenrat, leading in popularity ahead of both Prime Minister Srettha Thavisin and Paetongtarn Shinawatra, leader of the Pheu Thai Party.
  - ❖ Chayotid Kridakorn, the Thailand Trade Representative (TTR), said that Prime Minister Srettha Thavisin and his delegation have visited 14 countries in the past 6 months, meeting with over 60 leading companies from around the world. He added that the Board of Investment (BoI) receiving applications for investment promotion worth over 850 billion Baht in 2023. This represents the highest level in 9-years.

- ❖ In particular, foreign direct investment (FDI) saw significant growth, increasing by 72% compared to the previous year. In the last quarter of 2023, FDI surged by over 145% year-on-year.
- ❖ The BoI has set an ambitious target of attracting 800 billion Baht in investment in 2024. Over the next five years, the BoI aims to attract a total of 300 billion Baht in investment.

- The tripartite wage committee has decided to increase the daily minimum wage to 400 Baht per day in some areas of 10 provinces. The new wage in these provinces is expected to come into effect on April 13.
  - ❖ The 10 provinces and the areas include:
    - Bangkok: Pathumwan District and Watthana District
    - Krabi: Ao Nang
    - Chonburi: Pattaya
    - Chiang Mai: Chiang Mai Municipality
    - Prachuap Khiri Khan: Hua Hin
    - Phang Nga: Khukkhak
    - Phuket
    - Rayong: Ban Phe
    - Songkhla: Hat Yai
    - Surat Thani: Samui
- ❖ The previous hike occurred in December 2023 when the wage was increased by 2 to 16 Baht, rising from 328-354 Baht per day to 330-370 Baht per day, with rates varying from province to province based on their outputs.

- Thailand welcomed 651,318 international tourists over the past week, an increase of 6,256 tourists or 0.97%, with an average of 93,046 tourists per day, according to Tourism and Sports Minister Sudawan Wangsuphakijkosol.
  - ❖ The Indian arrivals witnessed a slight increase, driven by the Holi festival in India. Their numbers rose by 4,411 compared to the prior week.
  - ❖ China remained the leading source country, contributing 135,572 tourists, followed by Malaysia (59,430), Russia (43,828), India (39,672), and South Korea (31,919)
  - ❖ Looking ahead, tourism authorities anticipate a further rise in arrivals during the upcoming Easter holiday weekend. Additionally, the visa-free policy extension for China, India, Taiwan, and Kazakhstan is expected to contribute positively.
  - ❖ As of March 24th, Thailand has welcomed a cumulative total of 8,725,969 tourists since the beginning of the year, generating revenue of 422.92 billion Baht.

- Export value increased by 3.6% to US$23.38 billion in February, marking the 7th consecutive month of expansion, attributed to the recovering demand from major trading partners, as reported by the Ministry of Commerce.
  - ❖ For the first two months of 2024, export value increased by 6.7% to $46.03 billion. Import value increased by 3.2% to $23.94 billion in February. For the first two months of 2024, import value rose by 2.9% to $49.35 billion.
  - ❖ These figures resulted in a trade deficit of $554 million in February and $3.31 billion for the first two months of 2024.
  - ❖ The ministry maintains its projection that export value will expand by 1-2% in 2024, citing uncertainties regarding the recovery of China's economy and the high base from the previous year.

- The Energy Regulatory Commission (ERC) is set to announce the official electricity price for the period of May to August 2024 today. The announcement comes after a public hearing was held from March 8 to 22 to gather feedback on various proposed rates.
  - ❖ During the hearing, the majority of participants voted in favor of maintaining the current electricity price of 4.18 Baht per unit, while also supporting a plan to repay the Electricity Generating Authority of Thailand (EGAT)'s debt over 7 installments of 14 billion Baht each.
  - ❖ The ERC is also considering providing assistance to households that consume less than 300 units of electricity per month, who currently pay a rate of 3.99 Baht per unit. The Ministry of Energy will soon present a proposal to the Cabinet seeking funding to support this measure before the next electricity bill cycle begins in May.
  - ❖ Looking ahead to the final period of 2024 (September to December), the electricity price is expected to remain at 4.18 Baht per unit if the average liquefied natural gas (LNG) price remains at its current level.

- Domestic car sales continued to decline, especially in the pickup segment, falling by 26% year-on-year in February, which is expected to be the lowest level in two years, says the Federation of Thai Industries (FTI).
  - ❖ Total car sales in the country amounted to 52,843 units, down from 71,551 units year-on-year.
  - ❖ "We are worried about the sales decline, but remain positive about economic improvements resulting from state budget spending in the second half of this year," said Surapong Paisitpatanapong, vice-chairman of the FTI and spokesman for its Automotive Industry Club.

- ❖ Surapong also expects the government to launch more stimulus measures to drive the economy, which should improve domestic car sales somewhat.
- The 45th Bangkok International Motor Show will kick off today and run until April 7, 2024 at Impact Muang Thong Thani. The event features over 49 brands from Europe, Japan, Asia, and the United States.
  - ❖ This year's show introduces a new zone dedicated to hypercars, supercars, motorhomes, glamping, and car accessories. Visitors can also experience the VIP Diamond Lounge for 999 Baht, which offers access to the event for all 14 days, special parking, a lounge area, refreshments, and a chance to win a LUMIN electric car or one of four motorcycles from Honda, Yamaha, Kawasaki, and Suzuki.

- The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET) index closed marginally higher yesterday, gaining 0.35% to end the day at 1,377.23 points. The trading value was 41 billion Baht, with the market remaining within a narrow range throughout the day.
  - ❖ Early trading witnessed a subdued session. However, the sentiment shifted positive following the announcement by the Ministry of Commerce regarding Thailand's export figures for February. The data revealed a 3.6% expansion in exports, which reignited investors' buying interest. Sectors that particularly benefited from this positive news included animal feed and electronics components, which have demonstrated consistent export growth.
  - ❖ HANA emerged as the frontrunner in the electronics components sector, surging 4.61% to close at 40 Baht with a trading value of 999.30 million Baht.
  - ❖ Other notable gainers included DELTA, which rose 1.37% to close at 74 Baht with a trading value of 737.37 million Baht, and KCE, which climbed 1.28% to close at 39.50 Baht with a trading value of 336.34 million Baht.

- The first reading of the alcohol bill is set for today.
  - ❖ The four drafts up for debate include 2 from the civic sector, 1 from the main opposition Move Forward Party, and 1 from the government.
  - ❖ The government's version is the newest one and is based on suggestions from PM's Secretary-General Prommin Lertsuridej, which include abolishing the 1972 order that dictates alcohol selling hours between 11:00-14:00 and 17:00-24:00, revising the ban on alcohol advertisement, and revising the ban on sales of alcohol at automatic vending machines.
- Meanwhile the cabinet approved a 2.9 billion Baht budget to provide lunches for nearly 576,000 students in extended opportunity schools, spanning over 7,300 establishments nationwide.
  - ❖ Extended opportunity schools encompass primary institutions extended to cover secondary education, aligning with the compulsory education requirements up to Mathayom 3. These schools often face challenges due to insufficient qualified teachers and predominantly cater to underprivileged students. With this initiative, students between Mathayom 1 and 3 in these schools will now receive free lunches, mirroring the support provided to primary education students.
  - ❖ Additionally, a budget of 2.73 billion Baht to hire additional janitors in schools for the fiscal years 2024-2026. The proposal was submitted by the Ministry of Education with the aim of reducing the workload of teachers.
  - ❖ However, the Cabinet has only approved the budget for the fiscal year 2024 for now. For the fiscal years 2025 and 2026, the Ministry of Education has been instructed to explore technological solutions as alternatives to hiring additional janitors in order to reduce costs.

Political News

- The Pheu Thai Party's leader, Paetongtarn Shinawatra, revealed that her father, former Prime Minister Thaksin Shinawatra, was delighted after paying his first visit to the party following his conviction as a political prisoner for more than 17 years. Asked if Thaksin's presence will enable the party to gain more popularity than the Move Forward Party, Paetongtarn said it's up to the voters to decide.

- ❖ Paetongtarn clarified that Thaksin's provincial visit only aimed to meet with the locals, not to help with the popularity of the Pheu Thai MPs. She stated that this is because there are citizens who want to see him as Thaksin is the former prime minister who had benefited them.

- ❖ When asked if Thaksin would sign up for Pheu Thai membership, she responded that it depended on him. Paetongtarn believed that someone from outside the party may think that Thaksin has control over Pheu Thai but the fact is that he could be like an advisor to the party. She added that if any ministers wanted Thaksin's advice, they could ask him.

- The Election Commission has resubmitted its petition to the Constitutional Court for consideration regarding the dissolution of the main opposition Move Forward Party, according to news reports.
  - ❖ The initial submission was rejected by the court last Wednesday, citing unclear documentation. The EC was given a week to resubmit it.
  - ❖ Meanwhile, Move Forward Party list MP Pakornwut Udompipatskul denied reports that the party plans to set up a new party called Kao Mai (ก้าวใหม่ or New Steps, New Forward or Next Steps).
  - ❖ Pakornwut clarified that they have not discussed a new party yet, and even if the party is dissolved, little will change aside from the name.

- According to news reports, Defense Minister Suthin Klangsaeng traveled to China last night, which is why he missed the cabinet meeting yesterday.
  - ❖ The reports indicate that Suthin's trip could be related to negotiations to buy Chinese submarines, which have been halted after Germany refused to supply their MTU 396 engine to China.

- ❖ Suthin said on March 8 that the Parliament's committee scrutinizing the 2024 fiscal budget rejected the Navy's request to use 1.7 billion Baht from the budget to put the first 10% installment on the purchase of a 17-billion-Baht South Korean frigate because the Navy is already buying a 13.5-billion-Baht Yuan Class S26T submarine.
- ❖ The purchase is part of the 2017 deal to buy three Yuan Class S26T submarines, and Thailand has already paid 7 billion Baht in installments.

- The Senate voted 178 to 0 to reduce the 2024 national budget by over 9 billion Baht from the total of 3.48 trillion Baht, as previously approved by the House of Representatives. There were 2 abstentions.
- The 2nd reading of the Marriage Equality Bill is set to be presented to the parliament today. If the bill passes into law, it could take effect within this year.
  - ❖ The 4 drafts of the bill passed their first reading with a vote of 360-10, with one abstention, on December 21.
  - ❖ If the bill becomes law, all partners aged 18 and above will be able to legally engage and marry, with similar benefits such as tax cuts and welfare. They could also file for adoption.
- Senator Porntip Rojanasunan and a number of officials from the Central Institute of Forensic Science (CIFS) were acquitted of charges related to the procurement of fake bomb detectors.
  - ❖ The National Anti-Corruption Commission (NACC) formally indicted Porntip, the former director of CIFS, over the procurement of GT-200 and Alpha-6 bomb detection devices in March 2023.

- ❖ Eleven state agencies procured the fake bomb detectors for a combined price of 683 million Baht between 2005 and 2009 until the procurement was stopped in 2010 after they were proven to be useless. CIFS made seven purchases of GT200s and two Alpha 6s. The biggest procurer was the Army, based on the recommendation from CIFS, where of the 800 units procured by the 11 agencies, 757 were acquired by them.
- ❖ Porntip was accused of inflating the procurement price of the GT200 and Alpha 6 bomb detectors paid by CIFS. However, the Central Criminal Court for Corruption and Misconduct Cases stated that there was not enough evidence of alleged corruption.

- The Southern Bangkok Criminal Court acquitted former Prime Minister Chuan Leekpai, who was accused of defaming former Prime Minister Thaksin Shinawatra.
  - ❖ Thaksin alleged that Chuan defamed him in a speech in 2012, during which Chuan asserted that Thaksin's errors contributed to further unrest in the Deep South, citing incidents such as the Tak Bai and Krue Se massacres.
  - ❖ Chuan contended that Thaksin's directive to the former chief of the 4th Army region to suppress the leaders of the insurgents in April 2001 ultimately resulted in the attacks in January 2004, during which over 400 firearms were stolen from an army camp, initiating a new phase of violent conflict in the Deep South that persists to this day.
  - ❖ The court ruled that Chuan's remarks constituted criticism based on his experience as a former prime minister.

General News

- A person aged below 18 who uses marijuana, cannabis sativa, or kratom for recreational purposes could be considered a 'Child at Risk of Wrongdoing' after the cabinet approved changes to the ministerial regulations.
  - ❖ Under the Child Protection Act of 2003, a 'Child at Risk of Wrongdoing' is defined as a child who behaves inappropriately. This also encompasses a child involved in work or social circles that might lead them to do illegal or morally wrong activities. Furthermore, it covers a child living in an environment that negatively impacts them.
  - ❖ The intention behind this change is to stop children and young individuals from using substances that could harm their physical and mental growth and development.
- The cabinet approved the Ministry of Culture's decision to propose the inclusion of Thai kickboxing (Muay Thai) and traditional Thai dresses (Phra Rajaniyom dresses) on UNESCO's Intangible Cultural Heritage list.
  - ❖ The proposal will be submitted to UNESCO on March 31. Tom Yum Koong soup, Kebaya dresses (a joint cultural heritage shared among Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia, Singapore, and Brunei), and Thai traditional loincloth (ผ้าขาวม้า) have also been previously proposed.

- Suspended National Police Chief Pol Gen Torsak Sukvimol and his subordinate were accused by Lawyer Sittha Biabangkard of accepting monthly bribes worth more than 100 million Baht from at least 18 groups of businesses.
  - ❖ Lawyer Sittha stated that he plans to hand over all evidence against Pol Gen Torsak to Pol Maj Gen Jaroonkiat Pankaew, the deputy commissioner of the Central Investigation Bureau on Thursday. Lawyer Sittha, who has close ties with suspended Deputy National Police Chief Pol Gen Surachate Hakparn, also clarified that his actions were not intended to assist Pol Gen Surachate.
  - ❖ During the press conference, Sittha also spoke over the phone with Pol Maj Gen Jaroonkiat Pankaew, deputy commander of the Central Investigation Bureau. He would file a police complaint against those involved in the gang on Thursday.
  - ❖ Pol Gen Torsak, on the other hand, said his legal team is currently gathering evidence for a possible counter-lawsuit against Lawyer Sittha.

- The Thai Journalists Association issued a statement regarding Sittha's announcement about the money trail from gambling websites allegedly linking high-ranking police officers and implicating journalists and the Thai Journalists Association.
  - ❖ They specified that they had received confirmation from Sittha's team that he was not talking about someone in the association. However, Sittha recently posted a message implying that the someone in the Thai Journalists Association with the initial “จ” is indeed receiving money from the gambling websites.

- Thailand was no match for a highly motivated South Korea in the home leg of their Group C World Cup qualifier, falling 3-0 at Rajamangala National Stadium in Bangkok on Tuesday.

- The Civil Court ordered Police Lance Corporal Norawit Buadok, a crowd control officer attached to the Metropolitan Police Bureau, who crashed his big bike into an eye doctor while she was using a zebra crossing in 2022, to pay the parents of the deceased doctor 27.30 million Baht in compensation.
  - ❖ Norawit was already sentenced to ten years and two months for reckless driving causing death, speeding, driving a vehicle without a license plate, without side mirrors, without paying road tax, without insurance, and without due care for others' safety, among other offenses.
  - ❖ The initial court initially sentenced him to one year and 15 days in prison before the Appeals Court changed it to more than a decade after the doctor's family said the punishment was too lenient for someone whose job is to uphold the law. He will now have to pay the compensation alone as well since the court also dismissed the case against the Royal Thai Police, which was also the defendant in this case.
